Payment of extra quantity over the permitted quantity as explained above would be made on the basis of the new analysed rate.

The variation in quantity of abnormally low rate items for item rate tenders shall not be permitted below 25% for the items below plinth level and below 10% for the items above plinth level of the agreement schedule quantity, but in exceptional cases with written consent of Engineer-in-Charge arising out of technical necessity.

No claim from the Contractor shall be entertained/ accepted on these grounds.

5.9 In the event of any deviation being ordered which in the opinion of the contractor changes radically the original scope/nature of the contract, the contractor shall under no circumstances suspend the work, either original or altered or substituted, and the dispute/disagreement as to the nature of deviation and the rate/rates to be paid for such deviations shall be resolved separately with the company as per the procedures/ norms laid down hereafter.

- A. Force Majeure (FM): Conditions beyond control of either parties like war, hostility, acts of public enemy, civil commotion, sabotage, serious loss or damage by fire, explosions, epidemics, strikes, lockouts or acts of God come under the legal concept of Force Majeure (FM).

Delays in performance of contractual obligations under influence of FM conditions are condonable by the other party without any right to termination or damages, provided, notice of the happening of any such event is given by the affected party to the other within 30 (thirty) days from the date of occurrence duly certified by the local chamber of commerce or statutory authorities, the beginning and end of FM occurrence and cessation of such Force Majeure condition. Works under the contract shall be resumed as soon as practicable after such event has come to an end or ceased to exist.

For delays arising out of Force Majeure, the bidder / contractor will not claim extension in completion date for a period exceeding the period of delay attributable to the clauses of Force Majeure and neither company shall be liable to pay nor bidder / contractor shall be liable to claim extra cost (like increase in rates, remobilization advance, idle charges for labour and materials etc.) provided it is mutually established that Force majeure conditions did actually exist.

B. Delays in Execution

A work may be completed ahead of schedule or delayed due to unforeseen fortuitous circumstances, extra effort or developments beyond the control of CIL/Subsidiary or the tenderer and it is sometimes difficult to apportion credit or responsibility. The contractor may experience delay or disruption due to his own actions or inaction, those of his sub-contractor or other contractors, those of CIL/Subsidiary or the engineer, or other causes. Such delays expose the non-performing party to various sanctions under the contract. These sanctions include extension of time, damages or default termination of the contract. While examining the request of the contractor for extension of time, the engineer shall consider all circumstances and categorise the delays as follows:

- a) Excusable delays - Force Majeure (FM), that is, acts of God, abnormal weather, floods, and so on, applies;
- b) Compensable delays – or Compensation Events, which put full burden of responsibility on CIL/Subsidiary; and
- c) Inexcusable delay (contractor's own faults), which puts the full burden of responsibility on the contractor.

- d) Concurrent delays - when two or more events responsible for delay overlap each other. The delays may be attributable to CIL/Subsidiary or the contractor or none, and fall in above categories. The eligibility for extension of time (EOT) should be determined by plotting each contributing concurrent delay on the critical path. CIL/Subsidiary should see that the concurrent delays do not result in unnecessary extra extension of time.
- C. Once the delay is categorised, it should then be determined not only whether the contractor is eligible for time extension but also whether sanctions, such as Liquidated Damage (LD) or default termination, can be imposed on the contractor.
- D. The time for completion of the work will be specified in the contract and it is understood that the completion of work within the time specified is an essential part of this contract. While ascertaining the reasons for delay beyond the control of the contractor, the following delays shall be considered as "Hinderance":-
 - a. Excusable delays
 - b. Compensable delays
 - c. Portion of Concurrent delays to be decided judiciously by the EIC.
- E. More precisely, if any delay in the completion of the work is likely to be caused by any of the following reasons, then the contractor immediately upon the occurrence of such delay shall give notice in writing to the Engineer-in-Charge and he shall be allowed a reasonable extension of time for completion in respect of delay caused by any of the below-mentioned circumstances-
 - a) Force Majeure as defined at 6.4(A);
 - b) Abnormally bad weather.
 - c) Non-availability of stores which are the responsibility of the company to supply as per contract.
 - d) Non-availability of working drawings in time, which are to be made available by the company as per contract during progress of the work.
 - e) Delay on the part of the contractors or tradesmen engaged by the company not forming part of the contract, holding up further progress of the work.
 - f) Non-availability or breakdown of tools and plant to be made available or made available by the company.
 - g) The execution of any modified or additional items of work or excess quantity of work.
 - h) Any other causes which, at the sole discretion of the company, is beyond the control of the contractor
 - i) Delay caused by any written instruction of the Engineer in Charge.
 - j) Any circumstances which are wholly beyond the control of the contractor and unavoidable
 - k) Increase in the overall value of work. The time of completion of the work shall, in the event of any deviation resulting in additional cost over the tendered value sum being ordered, be extended, if requested by the contractor as follows:

- i. In the proportion which the additional cost of the altered, additional or substituted work, bears to the original tendered value plus.
 - ii. 25% of the time calculated in i) above or such further additional time as may be considered reasonable by the Engineer -in -Charge.
- l) Portion of Concurrent delays as decided judiciously by the EIC

F. HINDERANCE REGISTER shall be maintained by both department and the contractor at site to record the various hindrances encountered during the course of execution.

Hindrance register will be signed by both the parties. The contractor may also record his observations in the Hindrance Register. In case the contractor has a different opinion for hindrance and a dispute arises then the matter would be referred to the EIC and or the next higher authority whose decision would be final & binding on the contractor & the decision to be communicated within 15 days.

G. Interim Extension of completion time may be granted by Tender Accepting Authority limited to GM(Civil)/HoD for HQ works and Area GM for area works as per provision of clause 6.4.1 below, based on the recommendation of the Engineer-in-Charge of the work during the course of execution of work reserving the right to impose/waive the clause relating to compensation for delay at the time of granting final extension of time depending upon the merit of the case. Final Extension of completion time is to be granted by Tender Approving Authority limited to CMD of CIL/ Subsidiary.

6.4.1 General Principles for Granting Extension of Time

- i) At the time of issuing notice inviting tenders for a particular work the Engineer-in-Charge should specify the time allowed for completion of the work consistent with the magnitude and urgency of the work.
- ii) The time allowed for carrying out the work as entered in the contract shall be strictly observed by the contractor and shall be reckoned from the Date of Commencement of the work as given to the contractor.
- iii) The work shall throughout the stipulated period of the contract be proceeded with all due diligence (time being deemed to be the essence of the contract) on the part of the contractor.
- iv) To ensure good progress of work during the execution, the contractor shall meticulously follow the preset time and progress chart and in the event of slippages in one segment, all efforts will be made to liquidate the slippages in the next stages.
- v) If the contractor shall desire an extension of time for completion of work on the grounds of his having been unavoidably hindered in its execution or on any other grounds as mentioned above shall make application to Engineer-In-Charge for extension of contract within a reasonable period prior to expiry of Contract Period (Preferably not later than 15 days prior to expiry of Contract Period). Engineer-In-Charge shall process the proposal based on the merit of the case for obtaining approval of Competent Authority. Such extension shall be communicated to the contractor in writing by the company through Engineer-in-Charge before the expiry of Contract Period.

vi) Engineer-in-Charge shall process extension of time for the completion of the work if the following conditions are satisfied:

- a) The contractor must apply to the Engineer-in-Charge in writing for extension of time.
- b) Such application must state the grounds which hindered the contractor in the execution of the work within the stipulated time.
- c) Such application must be made within a reasonable period prior to expiry of Contract Period (Preferably not later than 15 days prior to expiry of Contract Period).
- d) The Engineer-in-Charge must be of the opinion that the grounds shown for the extension of time are reasonable.

vii) Deleted

viii) The opinion of the Engineer-in-Charge, whether the grounds shown for the extension of time are or not reasonable, is final. If the Engineer-in-Charge is of the opinion that the grounds shown by the contractor are not reasonable and declines to process the extension of time, the contractor may approach concerned SO(C) /SO(E&M) / GM (C) /GM(E&M) / Director (As the case may be) whose opinion shall be final and binding on all concerned.

ix) All interim extensions of time shall be granted by Tender Accepting Authority limited to GM(Civil)/HoD or GM(E&M)/HOD for HQ works and Area GM for area works and all final extension of time shall be granted by Tender Accepting Authority limited to Chairman/ CMD of CIL/ Subsidiary.

Effort should be made to complete the work within the original contract period or extended period.

x) In case the contractor does not apply for grant of extension of time before the expiry of contract period and the department wants the contractor to continue with the work beyond the stipulated date of completion, the Engineer-in-Charge can process proposal for extension of time even in the absence of application from the contractor as per the following guidelines :

- a) Whenever any hindrance comes to the notice of the In Charge of the work, he should at once make a note of such hindrance in the register kept at site. He should also make a report to EIC of the occurrence of such hindrance.
 - b) The proposal for extension of time should be processed by EIC for obtaining the approval of Competent Authority (Ref Cl (ix) above). This should be processed preferably 15 days prior to the expiry of Contract Period.
 - c) If the orders of the higher authority are not received in time, he should extend the contract before the stipulated date actually expires so that the contract might remain in force but while communicating this extension of time, he must inform the contractor that this was without prejudice to Company's right to levy compensation under relevant clause of the agreement. Such extension of time given by EIC shall be considered as fait-accompli in future.
- xi) The period during which the contract remains valid is a matter of agreement and if the period originally set for the completion of the work comes to an end nothing short of agreement of the party can extend the subsistence and validity of the contract.
 - xii) When the period fixed for the completion of the contract is about to expire, the question of extension of the contract may be considered at the instance of the contractor or the Department or of both.

The extension, in order to be binding, will have to be by parties' agreement, express or implied.

It therefore, follows that if the extension of time is issued /granted by the Engineer-in-Charge suo-moto as per provisions of Contract Agreement as per Cl 6.4.1(x) and such extension of time is accepted by the contractor, either expressly or implied by his actions before and subsequent to the date of completion, the extension of time granted by the Engineer-in-Charge is valid.

- xiii) It is, therefore, necessary that the Engineer-in-Charge grants extension of time as per provisions of the contract even when the contractor does not apply for extension of time in order to keep the contract alive. If the contractor refuses to act upon the extension so granted by Engineer-in-Charge, it will attract the provisions of appropriate clauses of the agreement.

The contractor shall however use his best efforts to prevent or make good the delay by putting his endeavors constantly as may be reasonably required of him to the satisfaction of the Engineer-in-Charge.

7. Material Supply & other facilities:

The contractor shall at his own expense, provide all materials required for the work, unless otherwise specified and the rates quoted by the contractor shall be for finished work inclusive of all materials required for completion of the work as specified in the contract.

* The company may, of its own or at the request of the contractor, supply such materials as may be specified, if available, at rate/rates to be fixed by the Engineer-in-charge.

7.1 For the materials which the company has agreed to supply for the contract, the contractor shall give in writing of his requirements in accordance with the agreed phased programme to the Engineer-in-charge sufficiently in advance. The value of materials so supplied shall be set off or deducted from the payment to be made for the items of work in which such materials have been consumed, or from any sum then due or to become due to the contractor thereafter.

7.2*The company will supply steel both reinforcement and structural and cement at the following rates inclusive of all taxes. The contractor shall bear all the cost for transportation; handling and storage from the issuing store of the company to contractor's work site store.

- i) Reinforcement Steel *:-
 - a) M.S. Round : Rs.
 - b) Tor Steel : Rs.
 - c) Structural Steel : Rs.
 - ii) Cement * : Rs.
- [* delete whichever is not applicable]

7.3 If the steel is issued by the department, the wastage of steel shall be the barest minimum. The wastage allowed from theoretical quantity will be upto a maximum of 5% to cover the wastage due to cutting into pieces, bending and other factors. Where necessary, e.g. matters of high value, they may proceed in the manner discussed below:
 1. Company, may where they consider appropriate, e.g. in high- value matters (where amount of dispute / claim value is more than the DoP of concerned Director), constitute a High-Level Committee (HLC) (minimum 03 members) for dispute resolution, which may include the following (this composition is purely indicative and not prescriptive):

 - iii. use the HLC itself as the mediator.
 3. This will enable decisions taken for resolving disputes in appropriate matters to be scrutinized by a high-ranking body at arms-length from the regular decision-making structure, thereby promoting fair and sound decisions in the public interest, with probity.

4. There may be rare situations in long-duration works contracts where a renegotiation of the terms may best serve public interest due to unforeseen major events. In such circumstances, the terms of the tentative re-negotiated contract may be placed before a suitably constituted High-Level Committee before approval by the competent authority.
5. Disputes where the methods outlined above are unsuccessful should be adjudicated by the courts.

(vi) The Process:

1. The Mediator independently and impartially encourages open communication and cooperation between disputing parties to reach an amicable settlement, but he does not have the authority to impose a settlement upon the parties to the dispute. The parties shall be informed expressly by the mediator that he only facilitates in arriving at a resolution of the dispute and that he shall not impose any settlement nor give any assurance that the mediation may result in a settlement.
2. Unlike court proceedings, Mediation is informal and flexible and allows for

- creative problem-solving and exploration of various solutions. The Code of Civil Procedure or the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 shall not be binding on the mediator.
3. Confidentiality: Subject to the other provisions of the Mediation Act 2023, the mediator, mediation service provider, the parties and participants in the mediation shall keep confidential all the following matters relating to the mediation proceedings, namely: –

He assists them in identifying issues, advancing better understanding, clarifying priorities, and exploring areas of the parties' responsibility, identifying common interests, and encouraging compromise. He then meets them jointly to encourage a mutually acceptable resolution. At any stage of the mediation proceedings, at the parties' request, the mediator may suggest a dispute settlement in writing.

(vii) Termination of Mediation: The process must be completed within 120 days, though parties can extend it by another 60 days through mutual consent. If Mediation is not completed within this timeline (120+60 days), the Mediator shall prepare a non- settlement report without disclosing the cause of non-settlement or any other matter or thing referring to their conduct during mediation for the parties or the MSP. Mediation shall also stand terminated on a declaration of the mediator, after consultation with the parties or otherwise, that further efforts at mediation are no longer justified or on communication by party(ies) in writing, addressed to the mediator and the other parties that they wish to opt out of mediation.

3. Costs: The parties shall equally bear all costs of mediation, including the fees of the mediator and the charges of the mediation service provider.
4. No claim of Interest during Mediation proceedings: Parties shall not claim any interest on claims/counter-claims from the date of notice invoking Mediation till the execution of the settlement agreement if so arrived. In the case of materials brought to site for which any secured advance is included in the bill, the full value of such materials as assessed by the Engineer-in-Charge (and not the reduced amount for which secured advance has been paid) shall be included in the cost of work done for operation of this clause. Similarly, when such materials are incorporated in the work and the secured advance is deducted from the bill, the full assessed value of the materials originally considered for operation of this clause should be deducted from the cost of the work shown in the bill, running or final. Further the cost of work shall not include any work for which payment is made at prevailing market rates.

2.5 In the event the price of materials and/ or wages of labour required for execution of the work decreases, there shall be downward adjustment of the cost of work so that such price of materials and/or wages of labour shall be deductible from the cost of work under this contract and in this regard the formulae herein before stated under this clause shall mutatis/mutandis apply. No such adjustment for the increase / decrease in material price and/ or wages of labour before mentioned would be made in case of contracts in which the stipulated period of completion of the work is less than one year.

2.6 Application of Price Variation Clause during extended period of Contracts.

The Price Variation Clause as stated above will be applied for extended time frame of a contract by following the principle stated as under:

i) Normally, if and when it is understood that a contract is not going to be completed within the scheduled time period, the contract is kept operative by extending the time of completion provisionally. During this provisional extended period the operation of the Price Variation Clause will remain suspended.

ii) If and when it is decided at the end of the successful completion of the work that the delay was due to causes not attributable to the contractor, then the Price Variation Clause will be revived and applied as if the scheduled date of completion has been shifted to the approved extended date.

iii) If it is decided at the end of successful completion of the work that the delay was due to the fault of the contractor then the Price Variation Clause will not be revived for the purpose of escalation but shall be revived and applied for the purpose of de-escalation and no further payment will be made to the contractor on account of any escalation during this period but recovery shall be made for de-escalation, if any. Additionally, the Clause related to Compensation for delay will be applied.

iv) If it is decided at the end of successful completion of work, the delay was partly due to the fault of the contractor and partly due to the fault of the employer and thereby Liquidated Damages (LD)/compensation due to delay is imposed then price variation clause for the purpose of escalation shall not be revived for this extended period, but shall be revived and applied for the purpose of de-escalation.

No payment will be made by applying "FROZEN INDICES "under any circumstances.

The Bill of Quantities is used to calculate the Contract Price. The Contractor is paid for the quantity of the work done at the rate in the Bill of Quantities for each item for the construction of roads. The payment for routine maintenance of roads to the Contractor is performance based. For certification of payment for routine maintenance, the engineer shall determine whether the contractor has actually achieved compliance to the Service Quality Level (and other requirements) specified in the Scope of Work, with reference to 100 point (hundred point) Performance Index assigned to various maintenance and the engineer shall certify the amount to be paid to the contractor (refer clause 4 of special terms and conditions).

If contractor has not corrected a Defect pertaining to the Defects Liability Period or not attended maintenance work to the required standard and performance index is equal to or less than 70 points (Seventy points), no payment will be released for that period even if such maintenance is attended in subsequent months. If performance index is 100 points, full payment at the approved rate shall be released. If performance index is between 70 to 100, proportionate payment will be made for the work during the claim period as per the following formulae:-

Percentage of total annual payment to be released = $\frac{10 * (\text{Achieved Performance Index} - 70)}{3}$

If, after evaluating the price analysis, CIL/ Subsidiary determines that the bidder(s) has substantially failed to demonstrate its capability to deliver the contract at the offered price, CIL/ Subsidiary may reject the bid / Proposal.

7. Maintenance of Haul Roads:-

Road profiles are to be maintained at or near to the original design profile. This includes maintaining the drainage systems, various component of road pavement, the road delineation and signage and the design parameters. Some of the basic maintenance requirements are:

- Scarify soft spots
- Remove wet spots and backfill
- Maintain good drainage
- Top up the running surface material
- Removing of spillage material. This will help prevent contamination to the surface running material.
- Maintain the Camber and super elevation profile.

- Adequate water is to be applied during any maintenance grading.
- Regularly scarify areas that show signs of laminations.

7.1 Watering Roads

At mines environmental concerns are high on the list of priorities in any area of the operation. Dust is a concern at site particularly in winter when conditions are very dry. Excessive dust is also a safety issue because it is a visibility hazard, and can put stress on machinery by clogging air filters, brakes and other moving parts. Watering the haul roads counters these dust problems by controlling the amount of dust in the air.

But overwatering can create its own problems as road surfaces can become very slippery paving the way for road degradation and loss traction for mine vehicles. Road watering procedures need to be developed at mining operations to ensure that dust levels are kept down and watering is not excessive. Haul roads are intermittently watered to provide dry braking areas for trucks on the downside of ramps and to ensure that the upside is not over-watered. Pit floors and loading areas are watered to suppress dust during loading cycles. Haul roads are watered so that they are damp, not wet, and on corners watering is lighter so that vehicular control is maintained.

7.2 Grading Roads

Grading is a major component of any haul road maintenance system. Cleaning up of spilled materials and maintaining the drainage system, the road design parameters, and the road bases all rely on the operation of a grader.

The final level of road after construction should be the benchmark to calculate loss of metal and to replenish at regular interval after loss reaches to a specified limit. Levelling shall be done quarterly if the loss of thickness is equal to or greater than 75 mm.

Grading is the main approach to preserving the good working order of the drainage system at mines. Grading is a particularly important process during the wet season because it helps diminish the effects of wet weather. Immediately after rain, graders must clean up road surfaces by grading out scours and filling in ruts and pools of water. This prevents trucks hauling on slippery pavements and stops them churning up the road surface with their tyres.

When the road pavement reaches a thickness that can no longer support vehicles, resheeting is required. Fresh surface materials are laid and then compacted by heavy rubber-tyred machinery.

At times, more serious road maintenance is required. When the road surface is corrugated or contains hollows or potholes, repairs may consist of loosening the existing surface and reshaping it. As long as the surface is of sufficient thickness, it can be ripped with grader tynes and then reshaped and compacted. If the surface layer is not thick enough, fresh materials are brought in. Depressions in the road that grading cannot sufficiently mend, are lightly scarified and filled with material similar to the surrounding surface material. To restore areas affected by large potholes caused by weaknesses in the pavement or subgrade, damaged areas need to be excavated and then filled with material similar to that of the surrounding surface.

Grading should be performed when the roads are damp so no loose material is lost due to wind or traffic. Another advantage of this is that damp materials fill all low spots and hollows and can be easily compacted by passing traffic.

7.3 Material Spillage

Spillage of material from Dumpers is a common occurrence and is particularly prevalent on corners and switchbacks. If spillage is not prevented or is not cleaned up, bumps and irregularities in the road surface will be allowed to develop.

Spillage can be prevented in the design stage through good design of corners incorporating super-elevation and adequate turning radius. However, if spillage does occur a grader should be used to clear spills, and to fill and smooth any depressions that spilled material creates. Care must be taken not to clear this material into drains or to disrupt safety berms. Accumulated material from this maintenance procedure should be removed.

Spillage on haul roads and clean up around excavators and shovels is usually carried out with a rubber-tired dozer.

7.4 Maintenance of Drains

Roadside drains and culverts need to be kept clear of obstructions to prevent overflowing in heavy rainfall leading to damage to road pavements or saturation of the sub-bases. Inspection of these facilities and action to clear the drains if need be, is required on a regular basis.

Drains are usually located alongside the majority of roads and are a key component of the drainage system. These drains are essential to maintain the integrity of the haul roads, thus must be kept in good condition to protect the roads.

Drains often have a large amount of water to accommodate, particularly during the wet season, and at times, the flow of water can be considerable. This can cause scouring and loss of condition of the drain lining.

Frequent maintenance of these drains is required. Grading the drains to remove debris and fines, which may hinder flow, and also to restore the design geometry is a mandatory procedure. Any scouring of these drains needs to be considered and in problem areas, drains may need to be lined with rock or another durable, non-weatherable material.

7.5 Maintenance of Signs

Traffic signs are an integral part of the safety scheme at any mine. Road signs need to be unambiguous and obvious to drivers in all conditions. It is important to keep signage clean so they are clearly readable at all times. Signs should be washed after periods of rain to ensure that they remain clear and free build-up of dirt and spray.

Washing down signs regularly prevents any build-up obscuring the sign and ensures that the reflective qualities that are important at night, are preserved. Damaged or ineffective signs need to be replaced and inappropriate or out-of-date signs need to be removed. All road signage needs to be closely monitored to make sure that it is as effective as possible and promotes optimum safety.
